24. In order that you can give as clear a picture as possible of what you saw, we would like for you to imagine that you could construct the object that you saw. Of what type material would you make it? How large would it be, and what shape would it have? Describe in your own words a common object or objects which when placed up in the sky would give the same appearance as the object which you saw.

The objects were of a slim oval construction. They seemed to be quite a bit longer than they were wide, but that could have been due to the altitude of the objects. The object looked to be the approximate shape of a small egg; however, they appeared to be larger than an egg. The object definitely was of a flat, round composition. To enable it to do some of the maneuvers we saw it do the object would have to be made of a high grade alloy of some sort. Ordinary metal couldn't stand the stress of a fast acceleration as we witnessed.

DATE February 26, 1955

On the evening of Friday, February 19, 1955, Miss [REDACTED] and I were walking across the Western State College Campus on our way to a dance held at the Student Union Building. As we were early for the dance we decided to sit for awhile on some iron benches between our library and what is known as Cherry Hall. I had not sat down when I first sighted an orange colored object in the sky. From where I was standing the object appeared in a southeasterly direction. I noted the time when I first saw it because I thought it might later prove to be important. It was exactly 2002 hrs. The object appeared to have a glowing quality about it. After calling

Miss [redacted] attention to the object we watched it for several minutes. While in the air the object looped several times, did several figure eights, and would suddenly speed up while moving forward. I observed the object to drop slowly out of the sky several times, and then on other occasions to rapidly drop. Almost everyone of the objects seemed to suddenly rise rapidly and soon disappear. The objects would be fairly visible until they started to rise, they would then disappear in seconds.

We watched the object appear, disappear, and reappear on the scene several times when Miss [redacted] sighted a group of six or eight objects going over in a northeast direction. The objects appeared to be in an uncompleted V-formation. There were two objects side by side composing one side. The following is a general sketch of the flight:

 Miss [redacted] sighted the group at 2025 hrs. and they were out of sight in seconds. The group appeared to be close as the object was much larger and the glow was quite brighter.

After watching the sky for a few minutes two objects appeared in the southeasterly sky and appeared to dog fight each other. They definitely were doing aerobatics of some sort. The loops were very smooth and tight.

These objects would disappear one at a time, but for a few minutes there was always one object in the sky. The objects usually disappeared in a due eastern direction.

The night of Feb. 18 was a very warm, starlit one. Vision was unlimited so it was impossible to estimate the altitude of the objects. We continued watching the objects until 10.45 hrs., at which time the individual object was still in the air.
